FORT VANCOUVER REGIONAL LIBRARY DISTRICT COLLECTION POLICY

PURPOSE

The Fort Vancouver Regional Library District (FVRL) offers a collection of library materials and information resources (collection) in keeping with its mission and values. The Board of Trustees (Board) has a strong commitment to support the acquisition and maintenance of a balanced library collection and recognizes that the libraries' physical and digital collections are contained in varied, evolving and divergent materials and formats.

POLICY STATEMENT

FVRL is committed to a collection of library materials and resources that allow for free access to ideas and information to reflect the broad range of interests of the communities we serve.

COLLECTION OBJECTIVES

FVRL is responsible for providing materials to patrons of all ages, backgrounds, and opinions. The collection taken as a whole will be an unbiased and diverse source of information, representing as many viewpoints as possible. Subjects will be covered in sufficient depth and breadth to meet anticipated and expressed individual and community needs.

The primary objectives of the collection will be:

- To educate and inform
- To promote the pleasure of reading
- To develop the skills and abilities needed for personal success
- To encourage and enhance personal, artistic, and intellectual growth

The collection will be selected and maintained to enable each individual to choose materials and information according to her or his own free choice. The collection as a whole will be a diverse source of information representing as many viewpoints as possible. FVRL neither encourages or discourages any particular viewpoint. No material will be excluded because of the race, nationality, religion, gender, sexual orientation, political or social views of either the author or the material. Selection of materials by FVRL does not mean the District endorses the contents or the views expressed in those materials.

The Board recognizes that FVRL's resources are not unlimited. Selection of materials must be consistent with budget allocations. Resource sharing with other libraries, as well as electronic and other methods of information access, are valid and necessary ways of meeting patron needs.

ACCESS

The Board believes reading, listening, and viewing choices are individual, private matters. People are free to select or reject materials for themselves and their own minor children but are not to infringe upon the freedom of others to read or inquire.

FVRL does not stand in place of the parent (in loco parentis). Parents and guardians have the responsibility to guide and direct the reading, listening and viewing choices of their own minor children.

The collection will be organized and maintained to help people find the materials they want. Materials will not be restricted, sequestered, altered or labeled because of controversy about the author or the subject matter.

The Board considers materials selected under this policy to be constitutionally protected under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution and the Washington State Constitution. If a person claims that a particular item is not constitutionally protected, the burden of proof rests with that person.

If a court having jurisdiction over the District decides that any material in the collection is not protected by these constitutions, such material will be removed immediately. Material under court consideration will remain available until a final court ruling is made after all appeals are exhausted.

SELECTION

Selection of materials is vested in FVRL's Executive Director, who may authorize staff members qualified for this duty by education, training, and job classification to assist. The Executive Director has full authority to use her or his judgment in interpreting this Policy. Materials selected will be deemed to have been selected by the Board.

Criteria to be considered in adding specific materials, to the collection include, but are not limited to:

- collection objectives
- present collection composition
- public interest
- community relevance
- critical merit
- patron requests
- level of demand
- timeliness of topic
- diversity of viewpoint
- diversity of formats to meet user needs
- cost, availability and durability of formats

Items selected must meet one or more of these criteria but not every item that meets one or more of them will be selected. FVRL strongly encourages patrons to suggest items, topics or authors they would like to see included in the collection. Requests may be met through purchase, resource sharing with other libraries, electronic delivery or other means.

Individual items, which in and of themselves may be controversial or offensive to some patrons or staff, may be selected if their inclusion will contribute to the range of viewpoints in the collection as a whole and if they meet one or more of the criteria listed.

Gift items are subject to the same selection criteria used for purchased materials.

COLLECTION REVIEW (REQUESTS FOR RECONSIDERATION)

The Board recognizes the right of individuals or groups to question materials in the collection and FVRL will give serious consideration to each opinion so expressed. A formal material challenge is initiated when a fully completed and signed copy of the Collection Review Form is received by FVRL. Collection Review Forms, available at any library branch and online, will be accepted only from residents within the Fort Vancouver Regional Library District service area for items owned by the District.

The collection Review Form will be sent to the Executive Director, who will refer it to a staff committee for review. The committee will consist of the Collection Manager, a Collection Development Librarian, a site supervisor from the branch where the challenge was received, and other appointed staff as needed to perform an independent review of the challenged item. Material under consideration will remain available to patrons until a decision is made.

The review committee will give the Executive Director their recommendation based on the judgment of the members of the committee as to whether the material was appropriately selected and made accessible under this policy. Because of the need to accommodate individual as well as group requests, the number of forms received will not be a factor in reaching a recommendation. The Executive Director will make a final decision regarding the material and reply to the individual or groups in writing as soon as practical.

DISCARDING MATERIALS

The Board recognizes that discarding materials is an important part of maintaining the collection in order to keep the collection fresh and free of outdated and worn/damaged materials. Discarding materials is vested in the Executive Director, who may authorize qualified staff to assist. Materials discarded will be deemed to have been discarded by the Board.

When discarding materials, the District will consider the same criteria as for selecting materials, as well as physical condition. Materials will not be removed because of controversy. Replacement of materials will be based on collection objectives.

The District is not a library of historical record. To ensure a vital collection of continuing value to the communities we serve, except in the area of local history, materials that are not well used may be withdrawn.

ADMINISTRATION

The Executive Director is responsible for the administration of this policy, for establishing administrative procedures for its implementation and for making the policy available for the public at each branch and via the Library's web site.

SEVERABILITY

The Board hereby declares its intention that the provisions of this policy are declared to be separate and severable. The invalidity of any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section, chapter, title or other portion of this policy, or the invalidity of the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the policy, or the validity of its application to other persons or circumstances.

CONTINUANCE

The Board hereby declares its intention that the provisions of this policy shall be construed and applied as a continuation of the provisions of the policy, as amended, insofar as applicable, and the repeal of any part of this policy shall not be construed as affecting such continuous application.

Fort Vancouver Regional Library District Staff Report 2023-12 Policy Committee Report

TO: Board of Trustees FROM: Amelia Shelley, Policy Committee DATE: 02/21/2023 SUBJECT: Collection Review Procedure

SUMMARY: FVRL follows a set procedure after receiving a Collection Review request.

Steps to a Collection Review

When a patron approaches a staff person with concerns about a book, they are offered a Collection Review Form. After a Collection Review Form is received at a branch, it is sent to the Collections Manager (CM) who assembles the review committee and coordinates the process. The following are the steps they take to complete the process.

- 1. Confirm with the Executive Director (ED) that a committee meeting is required and determine who should serve on the committee for the particular complaint.
- 2. Prepare a receipt of form letter to the patron for the ED's signature.
- 3. Obtain as many copies of the book/material (may need to place holds) as soon as possible for routing to the committee.
- 4. Send the Collection Review Form to the Committee. Include a request to schedule a committee meeting in about 3 weeks to discuss the material. Work with the committee members to confirm a meeting date, time and location.
- 5. After reading the book, reviews, complaint form, and other information, the Committee meets to discuss the material.
- Give the ED the Committee's response letter, a copy of the book, the patron complaint, and any other materials for review. ED will review and return to the CM. The final decision is mailed to the patron.
- The CM emails a scanned copy of the letter and the original patron complaint to the Committee as a FYI, so they know the review is completed and what the final response was to the patron.

- 8. Submit any challenged titles to the American Library Association's Office of Intellectual Freedom at www.ala.org/tools/challengesupport/report
- 9. Update the annual review log.
- 10. Gather books and provide a copy of the final patron letter along with a cover note instructing Technical Services staff if any cataloging changes are required.
- 11. File a copy of the original Collection Review form, response letter and any other documentation in the Public Records folder.
- 12. Books are returned to Collection Management Supervisor for routing back to the libraries.

Fort Vancouver Regional Library District Staff Report 2023-13 Woodland Community Library Update

TO: FVRL Board of TrusteesFROM: Amelia Shelley, Executive DirectorDATE: 02/21/2023SUBJECT: Woodland Community Library

SUMMARY: The Woodland Community Library is at 100% Design Development and currently in pricing. We anticipate moving into construction drawings in early March with a bid set going out in May. This is a brief review of the building and the budget.

KEY POINTS:

- The Woodland Community Library serves residents in Cowlitz County, along with Clark County residents who live in unincorporated areas of Woodland. Only those living within the Woodland city limits, or in Clark County, are eligible to use the library without additional fees.
- Woodland was identified in the 2012 Strategic Facility Study as a location in dire need of replacement. The current facility is over 100 years old and is not ADA compliant.
- This project has received $3 million in state capital grants through the Fort Vancouver Regional Library Foundation's efforts. Those grants are time sensitive and must be expended by the end of 2024.
- The original design for this library was reduced from 12,000 square feet to 7500 square feet to try to keep the project within budget. This has proved difficult due to soil issues with the site and rising construction costs.
- We are currently planning a groundbreaking ceremony for the project to coincide with Planter's Day on Jun 17, 2023 in conjunction with the Friends of the Woodland Community Library and the Foundation.

ARCHITECT UPDATES: Staff have been working with Hacker Architects on value engineering to help keep the costs down for this project. Items that have been eliminated include a radiant heat floor (exchanged for an overhead HVAC system) and reduced glazing by switching from curtain wall construction to storefront window systems. The architect has completed 100% design development and we are currently having the drawings estimated. We may repeat this process when we get to 50% construction drawing completion to ensure we are staying on track with our funding. We are looking at submitting our drawings for permits early to help expedite the process. Per the state capital grants the Foundation received on our behalf, the building is required to meet a LEED Silver standard for construction and design.

CITY OF WOODLAND UPDATES: Staff have been meeting with the City of Woodland to discuss the intergovernmental exchange of property on the corner of Goerig Street and Lakeshore Drive. This property was subdivided and surplused by the Board in 2022. The City has been working on improvements to Lakeshore Drive for which FVRL will be required to pay for the portion adjacent to our property. The right of way improvements will be offset by the land's value as part of the exchange. Our attorney is working on the documents for the intergovernmental transfer, and the City is working on the Memorandum of Understanding for the joint use of the future facility's parking lot.

FVRL maintains an informational website of the project.

ACTION: None required at this time.

Fort Vancouver Regional Library District Staff Report 2023-14 Facilities Committee Report - Vancouver Mall Lease Renewal

SUBJECT: Vancouver Mall Lease

The lease for the 3575 square foot (sf) property we lease at the Vancouver Mall expires March 31, 2023. The Westfield Corp. has offered FVRL a 5 year extension. Starting in 2024, the cost is increasing by about 12% over our prior ten year lease, and then increases by 4% a year for the duration of the extension. Below is a break down of the current lease and the new rate schedule.

SUMMARY: FVRL has had a presence at the Vancouver Mall since the 1980s. The current Vancouver Mall Community Library opened in 2013 after moving from another larger location within the Mall. The move to a smaller space was requested by the Mall (not FVRL) and resulted in the additional expense of remodeling the space. The cost of that remodel exceeded $1 million.

The Mall location holds a special role in our District as it tends to be the first branch many new arrivals discover. Moving to a new location is an expensive and time consuming effort. A quick look at other available spaces in the area earlier this year found that rents were between $24 and $28 per sf before taxes. Staff recommends using the upcoming strategic capital facilities study to determine if the Mall remains a viable model based on cost, or whether a new location would serve the area better. The five year time frame for this lease should give the District adequate time to determine feasibility and cost, as well financing and other factors for this location.

2022 statistics from the Vancouver Mall Community Library:

The Vancouver Mall Branch continues to be an asset in the District, in some cases outperforming larger locations due to the easy proximity it offers to shoppers. The Vancouver Mall location employs nine individuals at 7.4 FTE and is open seven days a week.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: Approve a five year lease with Westfield prior to March 2023.

PROS: There isn't enough time to find a new location prior to the deadline and it's unclear when considering the cost of construction, supply chain issues, staff capacity and other factors that any money would be saved in the five years of this lease.

CONS: Increasing costs, lack of ownership.

RESOLUTION SCRIPT: Resolution 2023-07: BE IT RESOLVED that the Fort Vancouver Regional Library District Board of Trustees approves the lease amendment for the Vancouver Mall Library extending the existing lease from March 1, 2023 to March 31, 2028.

Fort Vancouver Regional Library District Staff Report 2023-15 Rubenstein Carpet Contract Closeout

TO: FVRL Board of Trustees FROM: Amelia Shelley, Executive Director DATE: 02/21/2023

SUBJECT: Rubenstein Carpet Contract Closeout

KEY POINTS

- Carpet at the Vancouver Community Library has been replaced
- Rubenstein Flooring will be applying for closeout
- Contracts in excess of $35,000 require closeout with the state
- Closeouts in excess of $300,000 require Board approval prior to submission

SUMMARY

Rubenstein Flooring has completed the carpet phase of the work at the Vancouver Community Library. There is still a small amount of vinyl flooring to install that should wrap up in early March. Staff seeks Board approval to submit the closeout to the state for this contract. State law requires that FVRL withhold 5% retainage on the contract until closeout is approved by the state. This process can take several months.

The approved contract was not to exceed $560,000. The final contract was $507,430.00, retainage equals 5% of the total contract, although the vendor can request it to be reduced to 10% of the outstanding amount on the invoice.

ACTION REQUESTED

Staff requests that the Board of Trustees authorize the Finance Manager to proceed with closing out the contract with Rubenstein Flooring.

RESOLUTION SCRIPT: 2023-08: BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees of the Fort Vancouver Regional Library District authorizes the Executive Director to file a Notice of Completion for the Vancouver Community Library flooring project, and close out the Rubenstein Flooring contract once all approvals have been returned by the state.

Descendants visit Chief Umtuch exhibit at Battle Ground Community Library

BATTLE GROUND — Just after Christmas, Mary Umtuch logged on to her computer to check for the video updates her family members usually post during the holidays. Instead, she found a short video about an exhibit at the Battle Ground Community Library and a claim the mystery surrounding the death of her famous forefather, Chief Umtuch, had been solved.

"Usually my family puts up some videos, and it said, 'We finally know who killed Chief Umtuch,' " Mary Umtuch said. "This has been a mystery for so long."

The video described an exhibit created by local historian and researcher Don Higgins. Higgins recently penned a new book titled "Peace Wins at the Battle Ground 1855" about the region's Native American history, the role of Chief Umtuch and how Battle Ground got its name. On Thursday, Mary Umtuch, her sister Sue Umtuch Hanson, brother Jonathan Umtuch, along with some nephews and granddaughters, visited the library to see the exhibit for themselves. "To know that the history of the local area is still of interest is a big deal," Mary Umtuch said. "That's just tremendous when it comes to who you are, where you come from. There is a story behind everything, even how people got here from other lands."

Chief Umtuch was instrumental in bringing a peaceful resolution to the rising tensions and violence that had erupted between white settlers and Native American people during the mid- and late 1850s.

While much of her family now lives in Oregon, some in Warm Springs and others in Portland, she said they knew it was important to see the exhibit for themselves.

"It's an honor to know that we come from a place where there was peace," Mary Umtuch said, adding peace is something her own family and household remains focused on today.

For Jonathan Umtuch, the Battle Ground exhibit reaffirmed the details and information about his family he uncovered in his own research.

"I did the family's history back when I was in middle school. A lot of what I see here coincides with what I learned back then," he said.

This wasn't the first time the family has visited Battle Ground. Sue Umtuch Hanson said she, her siblings and other family members participated in a ceremony for the opening of Chief Umtuch Middle School in 2008.

"When this display came up they were like, 'We've got to see this,' " she said. "There's a lot of enlightenment here. Of course, we've seen and heard the stories but this highlights them," Sue Umtuch Hanson said.

Mary Umtuch is hopeful by continuing to focus on the role her forefather and other Native Americans played in settling the region will convince lawmakers from Oregon and Washington to rename Government Island.

"We'd love to see Government Island changed to Chief Umtuch Island," she said. "He brought peace to this whole area. ... He signed a treaty right over there in Fort Vancouver."

While Higgins said he doesn't have definitive proof as to who killed Chief Umtuch, he believes the accounts given by Chief Umtuch's successors that the chief was accidentally shot and killed by members of his own tribe. Chief Umtuch, who was known to dress in western European clothing, was returning to tell the tribe he had agreed to return to Fort Vancouver the next day.

Copies of Higgins' book can be found at the Battle Ground Community Library, 1207 S.E. Eighth Way, Battle Ground, but are not currently for sale. Letter: Library knows how to handle info

Columbian.com/news/2023/jan/31/letter-library-knows-how-to-handle-info

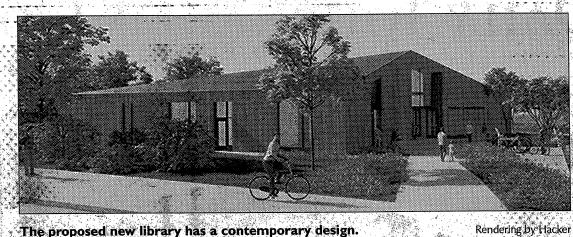

Stephanie Rollins, Vancouver

Recent Donald Trump and Joe Biden sagas of careless handling of classified, top-secret, government documents are ultra disturbing. But, I have a simple solution for the future protection of secret documents.

Let our Fort Vancouver Regional Library System handle U.S. government documents. Unlike the U.S. government, our library actually has a system for tracking what bits of information are checked out, who checked them out, and follows up when the pieces are not returned by a specific date.

It is now obvious that the feds have no idea what top-secret info has been taken away, who took it away, where it is located, or when it will be returned. Replace some of the third-rate lawyers and other incompetents (who couldn't get or didn't want real jobs) operating government with professional librarians. We could all feel more assured that documents critical for national security were being better managed.

We encourage readers to express their views about public issues. Letters to the editor are subject to editing for brevity and clarity. New community library planned for Woodland

1 A new 7,500-square-foot community library is planned for Woodland, a small city in both Clark and Cowlitz counties located around 20 miles north of Vancouver miles north of Vancouver Pending additional funding, the new facility would be built at 828 Goerig St. on land pur-chased for the project in 2017. FVRLibraries would own and operate the new space.

The library is intended to greatly expand capacity and services for a growing community and would triple the size of the current Woodland Community Library which is located a short distance from Goerig Street, at 770 Park St., in a historic building built in 1926.

Hacker is designing the new library for FVRLibraries which is developing the project in partnership with the Fort Vancouver Regional Library Foundation and Friends of Woodland Community Library.

Renderings show a one-level sleek and contemporary looking building with a mix of indoor and outdoor spaces. The architect says indoor spaces would prioritize flexibility, growth, and accessibility to support a broad variety of activities and the needs of different age groups. Outdoor spaces are envisioned as an extension of the library and would include gathering spaces and learning gardens. The goal is to create a welcoming and accessible space that will become a new central destination for the Woodland community today and for future generations.

The project dates back to 2014. An earlier plan called for a 10,000 square foot library building. The decision to move forward with a smaller library was made in 2020 due to budget concerns. The proposed scaled back building is estimated to cost $7 million. According to FVRLibraries website, the project is $1 million short of its $7 million goal and is currently fundraising to meet its target.

If funding is secured, the project is expected to go out to bid this April/May, with a projected groundbreaking in June. Construction is estimated to take up to 12 months and the new library is expected to open summer 2024

Audit: FVRLibraries violated state Constitution by issuing back pay to nonrepresented employees

The Fort Vancouver Regional Library district violated the Washington Constitution by retroactively compensating non-represented employees in 2021, according to findings in a routine audit released by the Washington State Auditor's office Monday.

According to the report, FVRLibraries employees represented by the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees reached a new bargaining agreement on Nov. 1, 2021, that gave them a 6 percent pay increase effective back to Jan. 1, 2021.

The district then also retroactively applied that same pay increase — which, in total, amounted to $122,521 - to 57 non-represented employees in similar positions.

That action was in violation of Article II, Section 25 of the Washington Constitution, which bans "extra compensation to any public officer, agent, employee, servant, or contractor, after the services shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into," according to the state auditor's office.

As a reporting agency, the state auditor's office lacks the authority to force any money to be returned, but it suggested that FVRLibraries review with its legal counsel what the next steps should be.

The following internal review found that such refunds aren't due from the identified employees.

"Based on FVRLibraries' past practice, and the time elapsed between the distribution of pay and the SAO's audit, they believe it is not reasonable to expect these individuals to return these funds," the district said in its response.

The audit assessed the period of Jan. 1, 2020, to Dec. 31, 2021.

What happened?

FVRLibraries argued that the decision was originally made to keep pay fair for non-union employees and to prioritize worker retention.

"The market salary study the district undertook in 2021 revealed that FVRLibraries was behind the market in compensation for many of our AFSCME and non-represented positions, driving the decision to grant a six percent increase to all employees at the end of the year, along with the retroactive compensation," the district said. "FVRLibraries hoped that would narrow the gap for many employees and help the district retain valuable employees and increase compensation equal to or above our peers in the state."

FVRLibraries also indicated that the practice of matching pay increases was something it had done in previous years and that it wasn't aware that such payments that aren't part of a collective bargaining agreement are against state law, as it had never been flagged in a previous audit.

"We looked at the personnel records for a 40-year employee that was non-represented for the duration of their career with FVRL. We found instances of retroactive pay going back to the 1980s," FVRLibraries executive director Amelia Shelley wrote in an email Friday. "It did not happen every year, but frequently enough to be considered an acceptable practice by FVRL."

Kathleen Cooper, a spokesperson for the state auditor's office, said Friday that the office hadn't found such violations in previous audits because the increases were applied retroactively.

"This is something that trips governments up from time to time," Cooper said. "Governments can raise pay to ensure parity or for other policy reasons, but it must be done before the period of payment and tied to performance."

Going forward, FVRLibraries said it should implement a policy for non-represented employees to have a compensation plan that indicates when a retroactive pay increase may be possible based on job expectation and performance.

Cooper said the state auditor's office will follow up on the situation's remedy during the next audit.
